

Interest Increase To Help

Hearings On Board Action Is Conducted

WASHINGTON (AP)—William McChesney Martin Jr., chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, said today its interest-raising action will help the U.S. economy and any delay would probably have required stronger measures.

Martin also told the Senate House Economic Committee that his independent agency had kept President Johnson's administration continuously informed.

"There has been a continuing frank exchange of views between the Federal Reserve and administration officials, both before and after the board's actions," he said.

The action, taken by the board a week ago, raised by one-half of one per cent the discount rate that determines the cost of borrowing money. It was deplored by President Johnson and others and there was special criticism of the timing of the move, since federal budget information will be available in just about a month.

Some of the Federal Reserve Board members who voted against the interest charge, in a 4-3 split, joined in the criticism. But Martin said he thinks that instead of dampening the economic boom, the board's decisions to raise the permissible rate of both interest charge and interest paid on time deposits "should help to sustain progress in raising output and employment by averting monetary overstimulation of the economy."

Martin listed several indications he said pointed toward inflation in recent months.

The committee opened hearings on the board's raising the interest rate.

The chairman of the committee, Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., said in an interview he believes the Federal Reserve's real motive for the increase was not to ward off inflation or improve the international standing of the dollar but to "bail out the New York banks which have $15 billion in certificates of deposit coming due."

Snow, Rain Covers Most Of Country

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A blanket of wintry weather — snow, rain, sleet and fog — stretched across the continent today.

A sleet storm paralyzed portions of the Dakotas and western Minnesota, knocking out telephone communications and isolating some communities without power.

Snow, rain and fog snarled traffic and caused many accidents. A Greyhound bus en route to New Orleans went off a highway during a rainstorm Sunday near Pensacola, Fla., killing four persons and injuring 19.

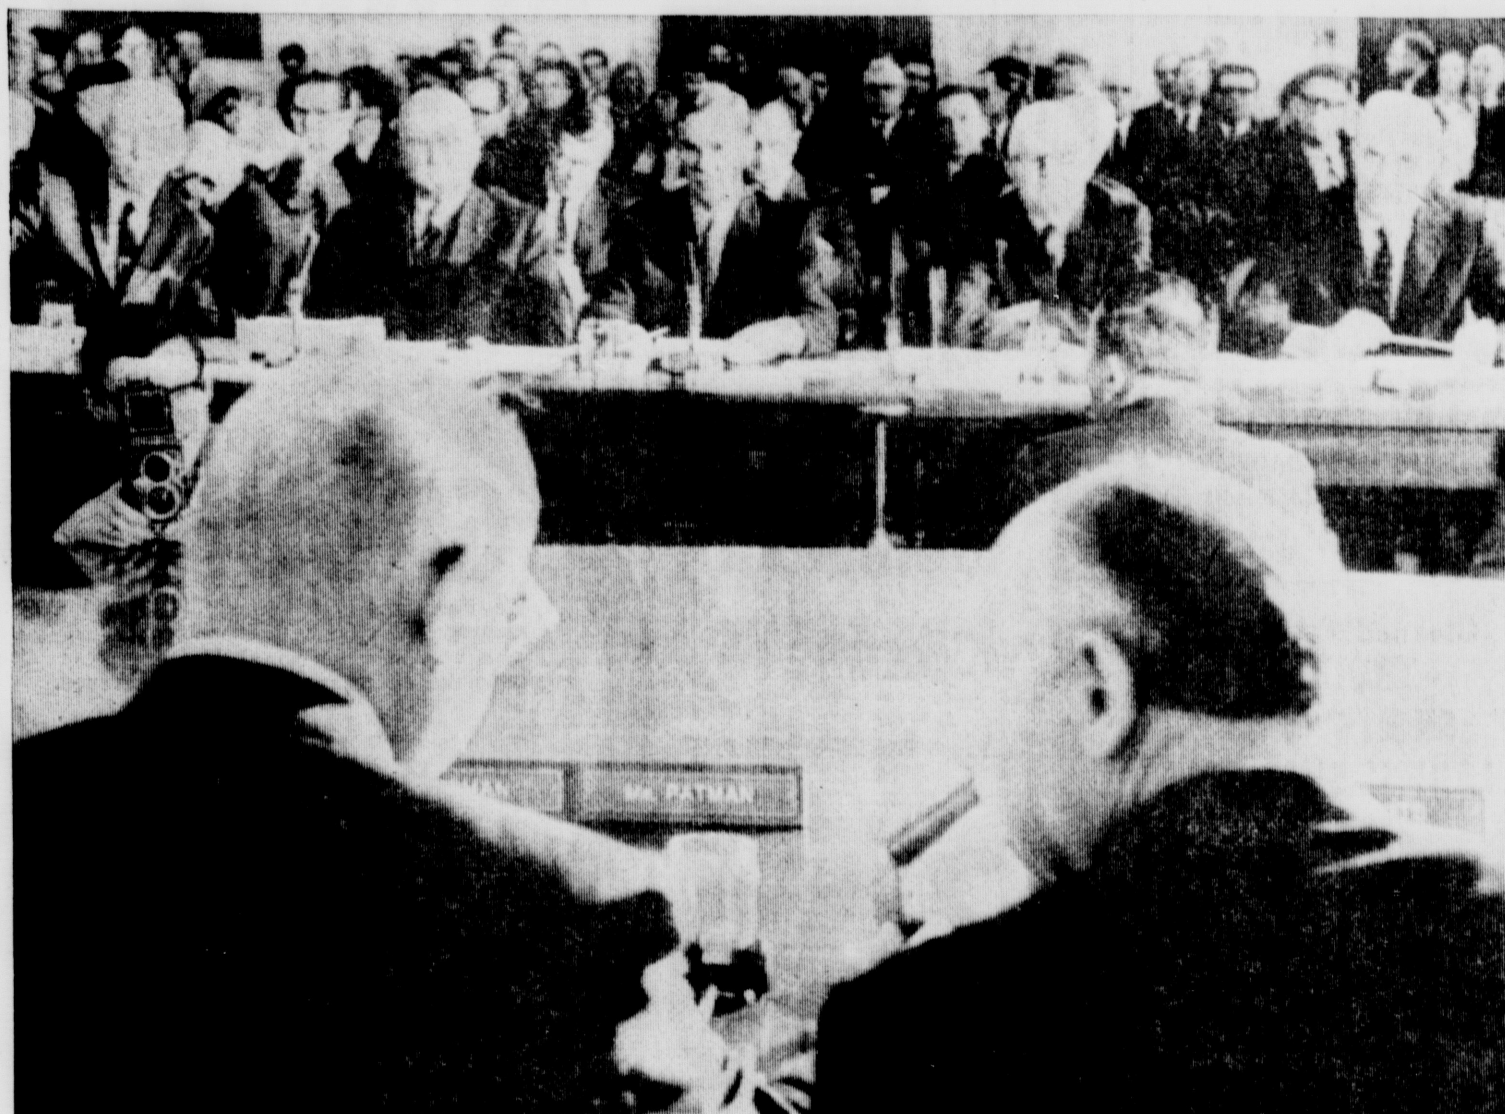

An Air Canada four-engine turbo-prop revved its engines just before it was to take off from O'Hare International Airport in Chicago for Toronto, Ont., Sunday. The plane skidded off the runway and became stuck in mud. The 71 passengers were transferred to another plane.

A pilot apparently became lost in the fog near White Plains, N.Y., Sunday and was killed when his plane crashed.

Ninth Day In Space

Astronauts Look Toward Meeting With Gemini 6

SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP)—The Gemini 7 astronauts, still vigorous and mentally alert in the ninth day of the marathon space voyage, hurtled on toward new endurance records today and looked forward eagerly to a Wednesday rendezvous with Gemini 6.

Frank Borman and James Lovell have shown no evidence of weariness despite the long, grinding exposure to their strange world of space. Dr. D. Owen Coons, a flight surgeon, said today.

"They wake up sharp," he

Johnson At White House For Business

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson returned to the White House early today for an intensive round of conferences with foreign leaders, final preparations for the new budget and more discussion of Viet Nam.

Johnson had been at his LBJ Ranch near Johnson City, Tex., for 24 days — relaxing, recuperating from his Oct. 8 operation and holding a series of top-level policy talks on the whole range of governmental activity.

Press secretary Bill D. Moyers said staff work would occupy much of the President's time today.

Johnson had to make final preparations for the arrival Tuesday of President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan for two days of meetings. Ayub arrived in New York Sunday.

Prime Minister Harold Wilson of Great Britain, who has been trying to promote Viet Nam peace talks, will be at the White House Friday.

West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard, who wants for his country a role in the nuclear defense of Western Europe, will arrive Saturday for two or three days of conferences with Johnson.

The President and Mrs. Johnson are expected to return to the ranch a few days before Christmas for a holiday stay that may continue into January.

While in Washington, Johnson also will have to oversee final preparation of the federal budget—including decisions on how sharply to curb funds for "Great Society" programs enacted this year. Officials disclosed Friday that curbs have been ordered to help offset expected outlays in Viet Nam.

In addition, the President faces new decisions on Viet Nam and that subject is certain to take up much of his time.

There will be holiday festivities, too — the lighting of the national Christmas tree behind the White House on Friday afternoon and a presidential party that night for White House employees.

said, "respond quickly to ground commands, and make no errors in copying information relayed to them from earth stations."

"They knew what they had to do, and they are going to do it. We expect them to be as good to the end."

Gemini 7 entered its 133rd orbit at 10 a.m. EST.

Borman, an Air Force lieutenant colonel, and Lovell, a Navy commander, woke up this morning after a period of light sleep and soon began asking questions about the progress of efforts at Cape Kennedy to prepare the Gemini 6 spacecraft for a Wednesday launch.

They were told an abbreviated mid-count would be started Tuesday morning and prospects were good for a Wednesday firing and, at last, the biggest of all space adventures—the rendezvous of orbiting ships.

Top Labor Leaders In Convention

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — AFL-CIO leaders demanded today a bigger slice of the nation's wealth for workers, a federal curb on the prices of some key commodities, and a 50 per cent increase in Social Security benefits.

In resolutions certain to be gavelled to quick approval by about 1,000 delegates to the federation's 10th anniversary convention, AFL-CIO policymakers also rejected White House wage guidelines and called for bold federal policies to create jobs and boost consumer purchasing power.

"A faster rise in wages and fringe benefits is needed to broaden and strengthen the mass markets that are the foundation of the economy," one resolution said.

Federation leaders also suggested income tax cuts for low- and middle-income families, and elimination of taxes altogether for those under the government's poverty income level of $3,000 a year.

The effects on the economy of 1964 and 1965 tax cuts have "almost completely worn off," the proposed resolution said.

In recommending a 50 per cent increase in Social Security benefits, federation leaders said the base on which Social Security taxes are assessed should be increased from the present $6,600 to $15,000 a year, supplemented by extra money from the federal Treasury. The cost should not be charged to future generations of workers and employers, they declared.

Social Security benefits now average about $92 per month for a retired single worker and $137 for a married couple.

The recent 7 per cent increase barely covered the increased cost of living, the federation said.

delayed, the problem of bringing the two spacecraft down on the same day could arise. Gemini 7 now is scheduled to splash down Saturday after 14 days in space.

"We don't want to bring them down on the same day, but we will if we have to," a spokesman said.

If this happens, an effort would be made to land them one orbit apart, but it could be done on the same revolution if there were no other choice.

Borman and Lovell, the newly-crowned endurance champions of space flight, sped onward dressed "the only way to fly," in their cotton underwear.

"This is Gemini 7, your friendly target vehicle, standing by," Borman messaged earth after the U.S. Sunday space spectacular stalled in a cloud of pink-tinted rocket exhaust.

The Gemini 6 pilots, Navy Capt. Walter M. Schirra Jr. and Air Force Maj. Thomas P. Stafford, saw their 103,000-mile space hunt and rendezvous with Gemini 7 foiled before they left the launch pad at Cape Kennedy, Fla. A false signal shut off the launch rocket's engines.

Already - tired launch crews worked around the clock today to ready Gemini 6 for another pursuit try at 8:37 a.m. (EST) Wednesday. It can be fired as late as Saturday.

Borman and Lovell got orders to conserve fuel to insure them enough power to maintain their spacecraft's attitude toward the end of their space voyage. This meant an abbreviated experiment schedule and much drifting flight.

Light conversation flowed between the spacecraft and earth as ground controllers attempted to boost the spacemen's spirits after the sudden scrub of the Gemini 6 launch.

Maugham 'In Throes Of Death'

NICE, France (AP) — British author W. Somerset Maugham lay in a coma in a hospital today, and his doctor gave him less than 24 hours to live.

The 91-year-old writer suffered a stroke Saturday at his seaside villa at Cap Ferrat. He has been unconscious ever since. His doctor, Georges Rosanoff, told newsmen Sunday night that Maugham was "in the throes of death."

Rosanoff reported the old man's temperature had risen and pulmonary congestion had set in.

"Medicine is henceforth powerless to save Mr. Maugham," he said. "He has entered the death agony. It is a hopeless condition, and we do not think it can last now more than 24 hours. The brain is no longer irrigated (supplied with blood), but the heart is still holding out."

Three doctors attending Maugham said in a bulletin today that his condition was "stationary without aggravation." Dr. Rosanoff told newsmen: "The fact that we have noted no change since yesterday evening does not permit the slightest hope."

Alan F. Searle, Maugham's secretary and companion for years, said the author had directed in a will he made several years ago that his body be cremated and the ashes sent to England to be placed in Canterbury Cathedral.

Maugham's only child, Lady John Hope, was not at his bedside and it was doubted that she would come to Nice. Maugham tried to disown her several years ago and adopt Searle, but a French court refused to permit it.

Maugham abandoned a medical career at the end of the last century and became a writer after interning at a hospital in London's Lambeth district.

Ground, Air Strikes Result In Heavy Toll

Major Fighting Dwindles To Marine Patrol Action

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A task force of U.S. Marines and Vietnamese troops, teamed against the Viet Cong in a five-day battle south of Da Nang, estimated today ground and air strikes have killed about 1,000 of the Red enemy.

Marine patrols, moving through hills in the Action was dwindling.

Que Son sector, found a guerrilla training area and some warehouses full of gray and black cloth, obviously designed for manufacture of the flimsy pajamas many Viet Cong use as uniforms.

The claim about enemy casualties was not broken down as to direct attack, artillery fire and aerial bombing. Whether it would be borne out by body count remained to be seen.

Major ground fighting elsewhere also ebbed. U.S. briefing officers said the Viet Cong may be pulling back to their jungle hideouts to recover.

With partially clearing skies, U.S. warplanes resumed raids on North Viet Nam after a two-day lull blamed on bad weather.

Air Force F105 Thunderchief and F4C Phantom jets blasted two bridges northeast of Dien Bien Phu, set a five-building military complex in the same area aflame and cratered the approaches to another bridge on a main highway 130 miles northwest of Hanoi, a U.S. spokesman said.

Navy pilots claimed another bridge, two storage areas and four antiaircraft sites 14 miles northwest of the coastal town of Dong Hoi, he added.

In the battle area south of Da Nang, U.S. Marines and South Vietnamese troops hunted a Viet Cong regiment on the sixth day of Operation Harvest Moon but the foe refused to show himself.

Since the fighting began around a valley 20 miles south of Da Nang, the Leathernecks counted 198 Viet Cong killed, 76 captured and 287 suspects detained, Marine spokesmen said.

Officers regarded the lull warily. "I don't think the major fighting has started," said the U.S. Marine commander in Viet Nam, Maj. Gen. Lewis Walt.

U.S. officials took considerable satisfaction at the surrender of a 22-man Viet Cong platoon, with 11 weapons, to men of the U.S. 173rd Airborne Brigade at Vo Dat, 60 miles northeast of Saigon. They counted.

The opinion said it was "with great reluctance" giving Thompson a right to a new trial.

His conviction has been before the court several times in the past.

WANAQUE, N. J. (AP) — Joseph Brumale, chairman of the North Jersey Water Supply Commission, reported that Wanauque Reservoir, which serves Newark and nearby communities holds only enough water for the next 72 days. He said the reservoir now has about one-fourth of a normal 19.5 billion.

Alliance Ministers In Meeting

Nuclear Force, France's Role To Be Discussed

PARIS (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk called on French Premier Georges Pompidou today as foreign and defense ministers of the Atlantic Alliance gathered to discuss an integrated nuclear force and France's part in the alliance.

Rusk told newsmen on his arrival he did not expect anything surprising to emerge from the ministers meeting opening Tuesday at headquarters of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

But in calling on Pompidou and Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville, Rusk was putting into practice another observation that: "I think my stay in Paris will be useful...to discuss with other ministers the questions in our minds."

The question uppermost in Rusk's mind as he talked with the French officials undoubtedly was President Charles de Gaulle's opposition to NATO integration.

Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart of Britain was stricken by an infection in London and will be unable to attend the NATO ministers meeting. A Foreign Office spokesman said Defense Secretary Denis Healey will act for Stewart.

U. S. Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara also arrived for the conference.

Ministers of the 15 NATO nations will tackle these problems:

—France's opposition to integration of NATO military forces.

—Proposals for an integrated nuclear force that would give West Germany more say in nuclear strategy.

Independence Comes Home After Combat

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — The aircraft carrier Independence came home from war today to an emotional welcome that bespoke pride in her mission and offered solace for her losses.

She tied up in the rain and fog at her naval base pier minus 18 men and 16 planes that had sailed with her to Viet Nam waters seven months ago.

Thousands of wives, children and parents streamed aboard the big ship for a just-before-Christmas reunion. The joy of the ship's return all but blanketed out the near tragedy that struck Sunday when a ruptured fuel tank of the plane leaving the carrier for its shore base spewed a sheet of flame along the flight deck.

Just before the families boarded the ship an official welcome was extended by naval, state and city officials who had landed aboard the carrier in Hampton Roads in helicopters.

The Navy unit commendation was presented to the ship and her air wing by Vice Adm. Waldemar F. A. Wendt, deputy commander in chief of the Atlantic Fleet, for exceptionally meritorious service during her five months of combat operations in the South China Sea.

Surges of homecoming happiness pulsed through the ship's 4,500 officers and men and swiftly erased most of the scars of a spectacular fire that swept the flight deck at midship Sunday as the 80,000-ton flat-top was launching aircraft to fly to Oceania Naval Air Station near Norfolk.

Eleven flight deck crewmen were burned and four others suffered minor injuries in the fire triggered by jet fuel spilled from a ruptured drop tank of a Phantom II fighter plane.

A helicopter plucked from the ocean a crewman who had leaped from the flight deck to escape the flames and an officer in the Phantom who had ejected from the plane on orders of the pilot, who thought the craft was afire. Both rescued men were unhurt and the pilot flew safely on one engine to Oceania.

States Must Help Support Railroads

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—States must help support railroads and must not rely heavily on permanent federal aid, says Sen. Claiborne Pell, D-R.I.

It would be difficult, he said to convince a group of Southern senators to vote for permanent aid for a high-speed rail project which would service only a small portion of the Northeast.

Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: That letter signed "Outspoken" was the most vicious thing I have ever seen in print. The witch who wrote it said, "I wish you would stop telling us wives to thank God our husbands are still alive and to pick up the phone and invite a widow to a party." Her closing blast was this: "If you husbandless females would be less self-pitying and not quite so boring perhaps you wouldn't be so lonely."

According to the insurance companies, more and more women are outliving their husbands. I can promise "Outspoken" that if the shoe is ever on the other foot it will not feel very good. — VOICE OF EXPERIENCE.

Dear Ann Landers: Here's how I solved the widow problem: After I overheard my best friend say to her sister, "I'd like to invite Janice but who in the heck can I fix her up with," I decided to free them of the burden of my presence. I sold everything and left town.

For 20 years I have told everyone that my husband is "permanently stationed elsewhere." (This is true. He is permanently stationed in the cemetery.)

I am invited everywhere because no one considers me a threat.—G.W.

Dear Ann Landers: "Outspoken" is right. Every word of her letter is true. I know because I

Yule Program Presented At Steele Music Club

A Christmas program was presented to Helen G. Steele Music Club members on Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 8, at the Memorial Club House.

The introduction was given by Mrs. Robert England, narrator. In keeping with the theme of the year, she told of the sign of the Zodiac for this time of the month. Sagittarius, the archer, symbolizes the beginning of the hunting season and rules from Nov. 22 to Dec. 21.

This sign, Mrs. England explained, is named after Chiron, a Grecian archer, who taught the Grecian youth to use the bow and arrow. The sign denotes alertness and quickness of mind. People born under this sign have a good memory, learn things easily and may have a vivid imagination. Thinking of the days from Nov. 22, through Dec. 21, conjures many lovely pictures and happy memories for all.

A chorus composed of the following members: Mrs. Stanley Fisher, Mrs. Donald Anderson, Mrs. T. E. Gasperson, Mrs. Bill Burkholder, Mrs. Donald Barnes, Mrs. Gary Swartz, Mrs. Peter Daniels, Mrs. Keith Zahring, Mrs. Harold Pittman, Mrs. A. Jerry Harlan, and Mrs. William C. Garton sang "Toyland" by Herbert.

A trio composed of Mrs. Stanley Fisher, Mrs. Donald Barnes and Mrs. Keith Zahring sang "The Christmas Song" by Torme and Wells.

The chorus then sang "Silver Bells," and "Carol of the Bells."

A duet, "Christmas Fantasy," was presented by Mrs. A. W. Barrick, at the piano and Mrs. James Penn, at the organ.

Mrs. England then asked members to think in solemn reverence of the beginning of Christmas and what it means. Christmas, she said, does mean gifts because it began with the greatest gift of all. It means love because God sent his love in the new born child. As we give we also receive.

Mrs. England then read the poem by Vic Jameson titled "Three Gifts."

In closing Mrs. England said the Christmas wish to all was "That you may hold in your heart golden memories of happy Christmas days. That you may be brave when the cross is laid upon your shoulders or the hill you must climb is steep and the lights of hope are dim. That every gift God has given you may grow and your heart be filled with the fragrance of love. That in every hour of joy or sorrow you may find the love of the Christ-child drawing you nearer to God."

The chorus, wearing robes, then sang "O Come Emanuel" arranged by Louise Grant. "Mary's Song," arranged by Louise Grant, with Mrs. Bill Burkholder as soloist, and the trio, Mrs. Fisher, Mrs. Barnes and Mrs. Zahring.

"Give to the World Thy Peace" was sung by the chorus. The closing number, "Joy to the World" was by the entire group.

The program committee was composed of Mrs. C. A. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Gary Schwartz and Mrs. Robert England. Mrs. George Lovercamp was director and accompanists were Mrs. A. W. Barrick, piano, and Mrs. James Penn, organ. Narration was written by Mrs. Kirkpatrick.

Mrs. L. H. Hodges, president, invited all into the dining room for the traditional Christmas Tea.

An arrangement of red and white carnations with lighted red tapers in tall brass candelabra, were on the table. Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. Hodges, president, and Mrs. George Lovercamp, vice-president.

Tea arrangements were under the chairmanship of the social committee, Mrs. William Bunn and Mrs. James Alexander and their committee.

The club house was attractively decorated throughout with beautiful Christmas arrangements in keeping with the season.

Space Shots Still Not All Routine

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Just when the smooth take-offs for journeys into space were beginning to assume all the excitement of a departure of a train for Chicago, Gemini 6 performed Sunday in a manner to remind us that it isn't all that easy.

Television viewers were confronted with clear and beautiful color pictures on the three major networks that matched the clear and precise coverage of their space veterans at the microphones.

On the screen we saw a great cloud of white smoke tinged with fiery orange, but puzzlingly and then frighteningly, the great bird failed to fly. It was an awful moment.

"There's no lift-off," said Jack King's calm voice at Gemini control. "They're watching the pressure lowering." "They're asking for a read-out of all pressures. There's no lift-off."

His quiet, steady voice was reassuring to watchers who were thinking only about two men atop what Chet Huntley later described as "a live bomb."

The networks functioned as calmly and efficiently as the space team. All three stayed with the story until the astronauts were safely out of the capsule — with fascinating closeup film as they emerged. ABC then went back to regular programming, but CBS and NBC continued through an enlightening news conference with space officials.

Gremlins descended Sunday night upon a taped show shot in a studio, CBS' "What's My Line?" Bennett Cerf was interrupted in mid-sentence by film of racing cars tearing around a sharp curve.

Circuit Court

Judge Phil H. Cook, Lexington, of the 15th Judicial Circuit, has been transferred by the State Supreme Court to hear the case of Mrs. Mabel Janette Rahm, Knob Noster, who is appealing a 1963 speeding conviction in Magistrate Court here.

The high court's order transferring Judge Cook and the 15th circuit's court reporter, Lowell Johnston, was filed Monday in the circuit clerk's office here.

Mrs. Rahm, the wife of a Warrensburg attorney, was arrested by the Highway Patrol on Feb. 26, 1963, and charged with driving 77 m.p.h. in a 70 mile zone on divided Highway 50 west of LaMonte. She was convicted in Magistrate Court July 25, 1963, and Judge Frank Armstrong assessed a standard fine of $25 plus court costs.

The conviction, however, was appealed to Circuit Court and a jury trial ended May 13 of this year with the jury deadlocked and unable to reach a verdict. Judge Sam Blair, formerly of Jefferson City, presided at that trial.

Mrs. Rahm's case had been reset for trial on Dec. 7, but was postponed as Judge Blair was recently named to the appeals bench in Kansas City and it was necessary for the Supreme Court to transfer another judge. The judge here, Frank Hayes, was disqualified on request of the defendant.

No new trial date has been set in the case as yet.

Student Sex: A Problem For College Executives?

NEW YORK (AP) — Should college administrators worry about their students' sex lives?

A report by a group of psychiatrists says they shouldn't, provided sexual activity is "practiced with appropriate attention to the sensitivities of other people."

An Associated Press survey of campus opinion today found much interest, but little agreement, concerning a report by a committee of the Group for the Advancement of Psychiatry, a nationwide organization.

Most college administrators who had read the report and were willing to comment on it approached it cautiously.

"It's a very liberal view, a little too far-fetched for me," said Thomas F. Jones, president of the University of South Carolina. "I can't be very detached about our young people's concerns and needs."

At the University of Michigan, Richard L. Cutler, vice president in charge of student affairs, said:

"These people are professionals and entitled to their own opinion, but the University of Michigan at this time is not prepared to follow their advice."

Their advice, in essence: Make explicit the school's attitude towards sexual conduct and set up a "sound rules structure," but don't interfere unless sexual activity "fails to maintain privacy" and "is likely to be disturbing to others."

"It sounds like a good, sensible, down-to-earth statement of the situation," said William Speer, associate dean for student counseling at Massachusetts Institute of Technology. "I am all in favor of anything that meets the issue head on, rather than with pussy-footing."

Dr. Henry Bruyn, director of student health service at the University of California, said: "I think it is an excellent report. The sexual growth and behavior of young adults is very often distorted and disturbed by

Name Directors For Reorganized School District

School directors were elected Saturday for the recently reorganized R-9 school district in Benton County, which includes the former Warsaw R-3 district and the R-6 district of the Edwards and Fristoe communities.

Named as one-year directors were Leroy Howell and Kenneth Kammeier. Howell defeated William Hazel, 294-147, and Kammeier was elected over Walter Riffle, 235-208.

Directors who will serve two year terms are Carl Williams and Louis Smith. Williams defeated Billy Watkins, 325-118, and Smith won over Tommy Martin, 222-218.

Three-year directors chosen were Glen Harphan and Leonard Lane. Harphan defeated Elgie Gemes, 261-181, while Lane's vote over Galen Heritage was 244-199.

Members of the new R-9 board meet tonight in Warsaw to organize and elect officers. Roy Freund, superintendent of the former Warsaw R-3 district, is superintendent of the new district.

17 Singers Hurt As Bleacher Collapses

Ft. LEONARD WOOD, Mo. (AP)—A portable bleacher collapsed at Nutter Fieldhouse on this Army post Sunday injuring 17 girl singers who were giving a concert.

The girls, members of the Rolla High School choir, suffered bruises and abrasions. Three were held overnight at the post hospital for observation. They were Pat Wishon, Diane Shackelford and Nancy Sachs.

overly restrictive college rules and policies."

The Rev. James V. McGlynn, dean of the Graduate School of the University of Detroit, a Roman Catholic school, called the report "a strange combination of valuable insights and bland oversimplification."

"It seems to overlook the sacred and personal nature of sex," he said. "Specifically for church-related colleges and universities our stand must clearly be for the morality of our religious group."

Dr. Edwin Harrison, president of Georgia Tech, said, "I don't think it's part of the administration of any college or university to condone or support any activity leading to immorality."

A similar view was expressed by Dr. Fred Turner, dean of students at the University of Illinois.

"The attitude of the University of Illinois, for as long as I can remember, is that illicit conduct is illicit conduct. This is behavior which is not condoned," Dr. Turner said.

MOSCOW (AP) — Col. Houari Boumedienne arrived today on his first visit to a foreign country since he overthrew Algerian President Ahmed Ben Bella last June.

Boumedienne came to discuss continuance of Soviet aid to Algeria. A number of economic officials accompanied him.

SANTO DOMINGO (AP) — Less than 400 of the troops who joined the Dominican rebels will be taken back into the armed forces, high officials say.

Rebel military chiefs listed 1,200 men they said were eligible to rejoin the regular forces under the Inter-American peace formula. It was learned that 349 of these were paid off and dismissed as ineligible over the weekend. The sources said that soon after joining the rebels last April, many troops returned voluntarily to their units. Others died in the fighting, some deserted, some were cashiered and a number had already retired from the regular forces, the informants said.

LOBATSI, Bechuanaland (AP) — Bechuanaland, the British protectorate in southern Africa, will become a republic within the British Commonwealth on gaining its independence next September. Prime Minister Seretse Khama said today.

Outlining the territory's proposed new constitution to his government, Khama said the country would change its name to Botswana.

According to the last census, the territory has slightly more than 3,000 whites and nearly 300,000 non-whites.

New Innovation In Coin Theft

Vending machines have been popular targets of break-in artists in Sedalia for some time, but a new innovation was introduced over the weekend by thieves who carted away the machines.

Police investigated a break-in early Monday morning at Colie's Drive-In, 2163 South Limit, where a cigarette vending machine had been stolen from inside the establishment. The sizeable machine, valued with its contents at $250, was removed after the front door was pried open.

Four candy and peanut vending machines were stolen over the weekend from the Dutch-Maid Laundry, Seventh and Emmet. Chester Eding, owner, told police the loss occurred sometime between Friday and Sunday. Value of the machines was not listed with police.

Santa Klaus Will Appear In Viet Nam

PLEIKU, South Viet Nam (AP) — Santa Claus will visit the Vietnamese and Montagnard kids in Pleiku Province if the Viet Cong don't get him first.

Santa in this case is a rugged lieutenant colonel of the U.S. Army named Edward B. Smith, a native of Baltimore, Md.

Smith is senior U.S. adviser to the Pleiku special sector and his work takes him to villages in the central Vietnamese highlands that are surrounded by Viet Cong regiments.

Early this fall he and the 15 other Americans in his advisory group started getting letters from home inquiring as to what they would like for Christmas presents.

"We all talked about it," Smith recalls, "and decided we didn't really need anything. But these kids we see all the time do need something to make them aware of the spirit of Christmas."

Smith wrote his wife in Killean, Tex., and asked her to send over toys, candy, soap and other articles to distribute to the local children.

Betty Smith enlisted the aid of much of Killean and the surrounding army base of Ft. Hood.

The more Smith thought about his project the more he liked it so he decided to expand. He wrote a letter to a newspaper in Louisville, Ky., where he once was stationed, and talked a reporter from Baltimore, who was touring Viet Nam, into writing a short story about "Project Santa Claus."

The publicity and Mrs. Smith's efforts brought about a flood of gifts.

"We have already received 32 large boxes of the articles we want," Smith said, "and 132 more are on the way."

"Starting around Dec. 20 we'll distribute the stuff to the kids by helicopter. We've got a Santa Claus suit for one of the guys and we'll make a real thing of it."

Smith and the men of his team such as Capt. Nishimoto Masa-

Stanley Bohon was elected and installed president of Pettis County 4-H Council Nov. 29 at Pettis County Courthouse. Sgt. Charles Endicott, Missouri State Highway Patrol, discussed new safety laws recently put into effect in Missouri.

Other officers installed by Miss Opal O'Brian, Pettis County extension home economist were: Suzanne Smiley, vice president; Cheryl Hinkle, secretary; Bill McClure, treasurer; Linda Mergen, reporter; Nancy Schutte and Karen Viebrock, song leaders; Debbie Gibson and Conrad Heer, Jr., recreational leaders; Richard Callis, parliamentarian; Yvonne Gieschen, pianist.

American Royal report was given by Miss Hinkle and Freddie Kraft. Ruth Ann Robb gave treasurer's report. Arnold Fischer distributed 4-H calendars for representatives to take to their clubs. Fifty-five members attended.

The next meeting will be Jan. 28 at Pettis County courthouse.

mi of Los Angeles and Pfc. Raymond A. Wrinkle of Beeville, Tex., will be risking their lives in their Christmas project because the area in which they work is dominated by several regiments of Viet Cong troops.

But Smith and his men figure that things like this will win the war over here.

So far Smith has been lucky in his civic and military programs. He's been here about seven months. The Viet Cong killed his predecessor after he had been on the job 10 days.

Start a House Cleaning

Nothing illustrates the human weakness for failing to look ahead more strikingly than the way this country has allowed the pollution of our environment to engulf us.

The lack of telling outcry while this situation was permitted to develop into a serious problem is amazing.

We are only now getting around to setting out some basic rules to fix the individual's responsibility for creating unhealthy conditions. With the population expected to double in the next 40 years, it is about time.

There are big, dramatic, easily seen examples of what we are doing to each other. On a day that smog smarts the eyes or when the wind brings the smell in off rivers and lakes, the citizens are quite aware how far this thing has gone.

These are insidious examples, as well, in every direction you look. Those typical Midwest highways which run between acres and acres of cornfields offer one you might not even suspect. Health authorities have expressed fears about the lead from gasoline additives being discharged by cars on these highways. They are sure the lead finds its way from the soil into the corn harvested from those adjacent fields.

A panel of the President's Science Advisory Committee has just laid down a few broad ground rules for the struggle.

This is the keynote of the panel's current report:

"The public should come to recognize individual rights to quality of living, as expressed by the absence of pollution, as it has come to recognize rights to education, to economic advance and to public recreation."

Contrariwise, the committee makes it clear there is no such thing as a "right to pollute" and that those who pollute must bear the burden for damage done.

As a third precept, the committee emphasizes that just as in the case of other community services, such as education, we must stand ready to pay for improvements in our environment and that the responsibility cuts in every direction, not only toward the large-scale industrial polluter but toward the man who drives an auto or fires a furnace, as well.

Maugham Slipping In Pleasing Way

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — W. Somerset Maugham at 91, getting too deaf to listen to music and too blind from cataracts to read, began slipping toward death Saturday in a way that would have pleased him. He was in a coma.

Twenty-seven years ago, when he was 64 and beginning to look down the uncertain corridor ahead, this English novelist, playwright and short-story writer explained how he would like to die.

He hoped he would not be aware of death's approach, he said, or undergo its pain. Yet, he guessed wrong about the thought of growing old. He said it didn't dismay him.

"It would be a very silly person," he said, "who drew the curtains and turned on the light to shut out the tranquility of the evening."

But at 91, deaf and going blind, he was saying: "I am sick of this way of life. The weariness and sadness of old age make it intolerable."

In this spirit he approached the end of a long writing career which no one, including Maugham, considered great. He was a third-rater who made a rich living out of it. He said he had been writing for money since he was 18.

But he was a good writer, very readable, always clear and, as Clifton Fadiman said, a professional "offering high-grade entertainment. His hallmark is neither passion nor depth. It is good sense."

Maugham wrote 30 novels, 25 plays, 120 short stories. His best work was his novel, "Of Human Bondage," written in 1915. He thought it was his best, too.

By the time he was in his 60s, with most of his work behind him, he said he had no illusions about his place in English literature and that only two important British critics took him seriously.

In "The Summing Up," which he wrote in 1938 on his life, his work, and his outlook, he said, "In my twenties the critics said I was brutal; in my thirties they said I was flippant; in my forties they said I was cynical; in my fifties they said I was competent; and now in my sixties they say I am superficial."

"I look upon it as natural that the world of letters should have attached no great importance to my work."

Maugham admitted his memory was bad but he said his head was always full of ideas for writing. He worked hard to improve himself, considering "simplicity not such an obvious merit as lucidity."

He regretted that he didn't have someone "with good sense" to direct his reading when he was young. But he traveled the world in search of experience for his writing. He warned writers to seek experience, not to wait for it.

This was why he condemned one of his contemporaries. Henry James, for standing at a window. In "Tellers of Tales" — a collection of short stories he edited — he said James "failed of being a good writer because his experience was inadequate and his sympathies were imperfect."

Maugham, in expressing lack of illusion about the merit of his work, called himself a "teller of tales round the fire."

Last week's articles discussed high contracts which would have failed if declarer had not been able to develop a squeeze against one or both opponents.

Most squeezes aren't that important. Sometimes a squeeze will produce an over-trick at an easy contract. Many times one will develop to help at a mere part score. The first thing to remember about them is that any time you have all the tricks but one, there is a potential squeeze.

The next thing to bear in mind is that you must cash all your sure winners in other suits in order for the squeeze to succeed.

South ruffs the second diamond and runs off a few rounds of trumps. Then he takes the club finesse. East undoubtedly returns a heart, whereupon many players would simply try to break the clubs and settle for four-odd when they fail to break.

An expert would attempt a squeeze. He would start proceedings by leading a second club to dummy and ruffing a third diamond. This play is essential because he must make

Secretary Kirkpatrick Urges Election Law Changes

In a recent speech in Kansas City, Secretary of State James Kirkpatrick focused attention on the need for modernization and re-codification of Missouri's election laws and laid the groundwork for possible future action along these lines.

The problems surrounding Missouri's voting laws have the familiar ring of practical politics: Urban versus rural thinking with little dialog between the two poles of thought. Kirkpatrick mentioned in his speech that the University of Missouri's political science department had indicated a willingness to conduct an in-depth survey of the problem and thus come up with some non-partisan recommendations.

The elimination of partisan political considerations would assure "the sanctity of the ballot" and be a big factor in getting urban and rural areas to approach the problem jointly, the Secretary feels.

Although Kirkpatrick didn't mention it in his speech, such a non-partisan study might also find fiscal support from a national foundation interested in good government to assist in finding answers to the problem.

The problems involved are not new and were recognized by Governor Warren E. Hearnes when he was Secretary of State. Although Hearnes' efforts in this direction met with little success, his former interest apparently continues. Kirkpatrick said that he has had encouragement from state legislative leaders in this effort, too.

At the present time, conferences are being held with the University's political science staff in order to find suitable approaches to the problems.

Specific areas in which Kirkpatrick has expressed interest include the lack of uniformity in voter registration, which is now regulated by six different chapters of law. The Secretary would like to substitute a compressed, single set of laws, which would allow a "certain minimum of exception and variation."

Statewide registration doesn't exist presently and means that the Secretary, on the eve of the election, has no idea how many polling places there will be or an accurate count of the eligible voters. Certain areas have exercised a local option on registration, but Kirkpatrick would like to see voting authorities in all 114 counties and the City of St. Louis have the same laws.

Abuses of the ballot, particularly the absentee ballot, further indicate a need for change, according to Kirkpatrick. He doesn't feel that the dramatic counting of absentee ballots three days after a "cliff hanger" election constitutes a public benefit.

The Secretary also hopes for the development of an electronic or mechanical voting machine which would give all urban candidates the fair opportunity offered by the paper ballot in rural communities. Presently, the ranking of names according to filing means the first person to file gets his name at the top of the list of candidates on a voting machine.

Kirkpatrick hopes the study will lead the way to "a clear, complete and concise set of election laws." He said he'd like to be able to present recommendations to the 1967 General Assembly, but doubts if a study can be completed by that time.

War Heroes
Buried In Tiny Cemetery

AGANA, Guam (AP)—Tucked away in a clearing just off the main highway linking Andersen Air Force Base and the town of Agaña is a tiny cemetery where 23 heroes of World War II are buried.

It's the only one of its kind in the Pacific.

A large white cross marks the entrance to the quiet enclosure cut from the jungle growth. Inside a white fence are the headstones marking the graves of military dogs, members of the K-9 Corps which were used to rout out the dug-in Japanese during the U.S. invasion of Guam in 1944.

The white headstones show a dog's head in profile, beneath which is the name and rank of the animal. Four corporals — Bunkie, Hobo, Yonnie, and Koko — and 16 privates first class are buried there. Three headstones are marked "unknown."

Called "The American War Dog Cemetery," the small graveyard is tended now by U.S. Air Force kennel attendants at nearby Anderson AFB where 21 German shepherds continue to be an important unit of the military on Guam.

No one can seriously doubt that it is the taste of the teen-ager that decrees the trends in music, entertainment, fashion and even the language.

Now comes an authority to point out that the teen-ager — specifically, the teen-age wife — has replaced the farmer as the most important economic force in the nation.

Mrs. Helen Nelson, writing for the Consumer Council of California, has the statistics to back up the statement:

About 40 per cent of all brides today are teen-agers.

More women marry at 18 than at any other age.

More wives have their first child at 19 than at any other age.

One of every six wives still in their teens has two or more children.

By 1970, more than half the American population will be under 25.

"It is a sobering thought," says Mrs. Nelson, "to consider that the consumer market may be dominated by inexperienced family units."

Even more sobering is the thought that those of us on the downhill side of 25 are doomed to be part of the Pepsi generation, whether we like it or not.

More Vet Schools

The population explosion isn't confined just to humans. There's one going on in the animal kingdom as well. Within the next 20 years, in fact, the number of pets and farm animals in the United States is expected to reach one billion.

This was the figure tossed out recently by Dr. Don H. Spangler, president-elect of the American Veterinary Medical Association, to underscore his plea for more veterinary schools.

By 1980, he says, we will need at least 47,250 more vets, more than twice as many as there are today.

Grass has a wider range than any other plant, occupying virtually all parts of the earth and tolerating both torrid and extremely cold weather.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

GOP Wants Equal Time for Message

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — The Republican coordinating committee, meeting in Washington has an important argument brewing behind the scenes plus a dramatic move to win more support from American voters.

The latter is a state of the union message by the Republican party to rival the annual State of the Union message by the President.

Republican leaders will demand equal time at a joint session of the two houses to hear either Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois, minority leader of the Senate, or Rep. Gerald Ford of Michigan, minority leader of the House, so the GOP can get an equal break in presenting its program to the nation.

The argument brewing backstage is over the question of "extremism" and outlawing the John Birch Society.

Gov. Robert Smiley of Idaho has already announced that he will demand a formal resolution denouncing the Birchites. But another high-ranking GOP leader, ex-Vice President Richard Nixon, considered the spokesman for the moderates, has urged a go-slow policy. He warns that big Republican money will dry up if the Birchites are officially condemned.

Sen. Thruston Morton of Kentucky, former GOP national chairman and the man who first spoke out against the John Birch Society, is also wavering a bit. He says it may not be necessary to pass a formal resolution.

However, some of the top governors of the nation are coming to Washington all steamed up against the Birchites. They include Governors George Romney of Michigan, William Scranton of Pennsylvania, Nelson Rockefeller of New York, and John Love of Colorado. They plan to remind their fellow Republicans of the lesson of the Goldwater defeat — namely, that the Republican party cannot temporize with extremism of either the left or the right.

They will recall Goldwater's disastrous speech that "extremism is no sin" and the refusal of Chairman Dean Burch and Rep. William Miller to repudiate the Ku Klux Klan. Therefore they will call for the forthright repudiation of the John Birch Society and extremists of both the right and left.

Behind Kosygin

Behind Premier Kosygin's bitter blast at the United States last week, given to James Reston of the New York Times, are certain domestic economic developments.

Primarily, Soviet managers are having trouble with a sluggish economy. A terrible cold spell came early this year, setting back both agriculture and industrial production.

The economy has also long been bogged down by a heavy layer of bureaucrats who put directives and dialectics ahead of initiative and efficiency.

They are inclined to look upon farms and factories as political rather than economic units, as schools for teaching their own specialty — Communism. They pay more attention to the party line than to production problems.

Meanwhile, Democratic criticism has increased in the Soviet. The Russian people expect more from their leaders, don't hesitate to criticize their government. The policy of more guns and less butter is not popular. And with an increase in the Soviet arms budget, there will be a decrease in butter.

That's why Kosygin was genuinely sorry to increase the Soviet arms budget and bitter against the United States.

THE WELL CHILD

Children Have Right To Express Opinion

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The mid-Victorian child was brought up to be seen but not heard. How much damage this did I can't say but child psychiatrists now believe that freedom of speech should not only begin at home but should be extended to the children. Voltaire once said: "I disapprove of what you say but I will defend to the death your right to say it."

He was speaking to an adult but, had he been speaking to a child, his words would have been no less wise and no less perceptive of a fundamental human need—the right of self-expression.

The child who is allowed to express his thoughts, no matter how ridiculous or immature, is being helped to grow up and to maintain normal mental health. If he is forced to keep quiet, he is very likely to become an "angry young man" and to harbor antisocial feelings that will be a detriment to both himself and the society in which he lives. Despite much external evidence to the contrary a child is, after all, a human being.

Because a child's normal ambition is to be as nearly as possible like the adults he knows, and especially his parents, he will do his best to imitate them. When he feels that you approve of him it will strengthen his feeling of security and love. Strange as it may seem, when he feels that you disapprove, but for reasons he can understand, this, too, will strengthen these feelings. When, however, he feels that disapproval is unnecessary or unjust he will harbor resentment and hatred. For this reason disapproval should always be carefully considered and held to a minimum.

Q — My 11-year-old grandson has asthma. Will it hurt him to go swimming? Would it help to move to another climate?

A — There is no reason why a boy with asthma should not go swimming unless this brings him in contact with the cause of his asthma. The first step in the treatment of any allergy is to determine the cause and then avoid it. Many persons have tried to run away from their asthma by moving, but the odds are against them. Modern anti-histaminic drugs provide a simpler and more effective answer to the problem.

LEGENDS OF CHRISTMAS

Another Christmas legend starts in a humble home where a small boy sat by the bed of his ailing mother.

"I know you need medicine and I'll find a way to get it and by Christmas you'll be well."

Peter went to the woods and cut six bushy little fir trees and carried them to the village.

Holiday Safety

We have two holidays coming up, Christmas and New Years. Christmas is one holiday which should never be marred by the tragedy of fire. Yet the ways we celebrate it with trees, wreaths, colored lights, and hanging decorations mean extra fire hazards and the need for special precautions.

Some Christmas tree lighting sets on the market do not meet American safety standards and can be hazardous. Use only lighting sets bearing the safety seal of Underwriters' Laboratories. Do not use a snow spray on "angel hair." Both items are non-inflammable and safe alone, but when they are combined as on a Christmas tree, they become so flammable that only a touch of flame sends them into a burst of fire. White plastic foam used for ornaments and decorations burns easily but blue plastic foam has been treated to make it fire-resistant. Sweep up promptly berries dropped from holly and mistletoe which contain an unknown poison that can produce severe vomiting.

Another toxic hazard is the bubbling tree light which contains methylene chloride and if swallowed could cause slight poisoning. Plan Your Trips — Take weather and traffic into consideration and allow yourself plenty of time. If you feel drowsy, stop for a break. Take it easy on snow and ice. Don't Drink and Drive—Drinking is a factor in more than half of all Christmas accidents. Skip that holiday drink if you're driving. Watch Out for the Other Guy—Other drivers may not be as careful as you. Make allowances for their actions. Use Your Seat Belt — If you don't have any, put them on your Christmas list as a family gift. If you've never made a New Year's resolution, do so this year, and put it into practice 100 per cent. Resolve to always use your seat belt. Fasten it before you start the motor. Authorities estimate that 5,000 traffic deaths could be prevented in the United States annually if all automobile passengers were always protected by seat belts. Seat belts cannot prevent accidents, they cannot guarantee absolutely that we'll come through unscathed if we do have an accident. But they assure us that in the usual types of accidents, we would have an infinitely better chance of coming through alive, and probably even uninjured, when held in position by the strong webbing. New cars are required by law to come equipped with belts, perhaps eventually we shall be subject to fines if we are discovered not to be using our belts. It may take measures that drastic to get us to save our own lives. Remember seat belts are of no value if they are not used.

Dairy Herd Improvement
The following is a report by Mr. and Mrs. Chancey Housworth, Pettis County Dairy Herd Improvement Association welcomes Ned Monsees of Smithton into our association.

As winter approaches, we want to concentrate on several things to help our cows keep up in production. Quoting from our news letter from Missouri University, problem of loss of weight — it means drop in milk flow because of depleted body stores of energy. To overcome the body weight loss, give all the grain the cow will eat. Keep them in dry places, and if possible some sort of wind break.

Some make a practice of breeding first calf heifers to Angus Bulls, to help avoid calving problems. A study conducted by Michigan showed that the incidence of calving difficulties among heifers bred to Holstein Bulls was slightly greater than than for heifers bred to Angus Bulls. However they concluded that factors such as pelvic dimensions of the cow, which can be affected by heredity and nutrition, may be more direct causes of calving problems. Heifers grown on a balanced diet should have no trouble calving from their own breed.

Row Spacing In Soybeans
Soybeans grown in rows spaced at distances narrower than usual, grown in Mexico silt loam soil treated with a pre-emergent herbicide, often outyielded soybeans grown in widely spaced rows.

This was generally the case in a study by Elroy J. Peters, University of Missouri associate professor of field crops. One major factor in the study, says Peters, was amount of rainfall. Narrowing the distance between rows made little difference in yield over wider spaced rows when rainfall was a limiting factor.

Row spacings compared were 8, 16, 20, 24, 32, and 40 inches. The pre-emergent herbicide used was Amiben. Also studied was the effect of cultivation on yield. Number of cultivations ranged from none to three.

Some of Peters' findings were: When Amiben held down early weed growth, soybeans grown in 8, 16 and 24-inch rows continued to hold down weeds to a greater extent than soybeans in the wider-spaced rows. This was because more ground was shaded by beans in narrower rows, and weeds suffered from lack of sunlight.

In row spacings of 20 or 24 inches, no more than one cultivation in addition to a herbicide was necessary for good weed control and high soybean yields. In row spacings of 32 or 40 inches, one cultivation was usually enough when a herbicide was used. But, sometimes two cultivations were needed for good weed control and high yield.

Cultivation of Mexico silt loam soil sometimes caused increased soybean yields, even though weeds were not present. The main reason was that Mexico silt loam soil is sometimes severely crusted from heavy rains. If the crust is not broken, the amount of rainfall absorbed from other rains will be less. Rotary hoeing did not reduce the effectiveness of Amiben. Amiben plus rotary hoeing considerably increased soybean yields in 1963. Rotary hoeing helped break up the crust and allowed better absorption of moisture.

The study also revealed that when fields planted to narrow-spaced rows were cultivated, care should be taken to prevent cutting off soybean roots. This danger was greatest during second and third cultivation. The research, says Peters,

Paddy Wagon Taken by Woman In a Nightgown

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—An attractive, red-haired young woman walked into police headquarters early Sunday, and her entrance caused quite a stir.

Although the temperature was 39 degrees, she had walked 13 blocks, wearing only white shoes and a "pink, baby-doll, shortie-pajama nightgown," police noted.

"I want to see a police officer," she said. The officer at the complaint desk was busy, so she had to wait. And soon she disappeared.

The police paddy wagon also disappeared from its parking place.

The dispatcher broadcast a pickup order for the woman and wagon.

Patrolman John Worthan radioed that he was following the paddy wagon and that the driver looked like a girl. Realizing that she could hear the radio talk, he ordered the driver to stop and "get out with your hands up. If you don't I'll turn the dog on you."

The paddy wagon stopped — 37 blocks from the police station — and the driver got out. "I was surprised," Worthan said when he saw that she was wearing "only a pair of pink baby doll pajamas and white shoes."

Back at the station the woman said she was Mrs. Leona Hickman, 22, that she had argued with her husband and gone to the station to find a place to sleep.

She spent Sunday night in jail, pending issuance of a state warrant charging car theft.

Undetermined Cause In House Explosion

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — Buildings in a two - block area were damaged by an explosion that destroyed a vacant house in the central part of the city (at 20 South Coy Street) Sunday night.

No one was injured, although 16 persons were in the Anthony Kolich home next door. Kolich said the blast "almost knocked out our eardrums." Plaster was knocked off walls in his house.

Mrs. Dorothy Rogers said she bought the vacant house last Thursday and planned to rent it. The previous owner said the house had been unused eight months and the utilities were not connected.

has application in Missouri where mid-season soybean varieties are grown. Long-season soybean varieties generally produce large plants that need more growing room; there may be little advantage to planting them in rows narrower than 36 inches except for late-planted beans.

Big Difference Between Gemini Six Astronauts

SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP)—There's a world of difference between astronauts Walter M. Schirra Jr. and Thomas P. Stafford, the razor-sharp Gemini 6 spacehunters.

Each is a hard-working Naval Academy graduate dedicated to fulfilling an itching desire to someday stroll the surface of the moon. But take away their astronaut wings, and they'd have little in common.

Schirra, 42, Gemini 6 command pilot and oldest of the active U.S. astronauts, is a speedhound on earth as well as in space. He beams most when at the wheel of his sports car, or as he skims the water on skis behind a high-powered boat.

On the other hand, Stafford, 35, a balding, slow-talking former test pilot, confines any supersonic desires to jets and spacecraft. At home, he'd just as soon settle for a good book or game of volleyball with his two daughters.

The Gemini 6 pilots trained together for a daring rendezvous in space almost two years. And, Stafford said, "we get along just fine."

They shared bitter disappointment Oct. 25 when their rendezvous and docking mission with an Agena target vehicle was scrubbed because the Agena failed to go into orbit.

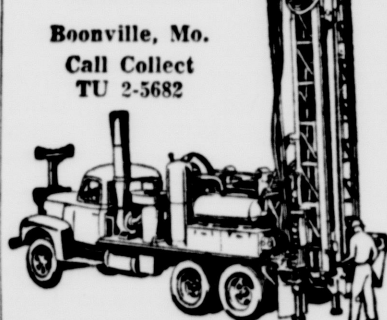

But sadness turned to elation only a few hours later. Word came that Gemini 6 would chase and fly in formation with the Gemini 7 crew.

"We are ready to go," declared Stafford in his slow drawl, representative of his native Weatherford, Okla.

Schirra, a dashing Navy captain with unruly brown hair, graduated from the academy in 1945. The yearbook that year said of Schirra, nicknamed "Rah-Rah" by his classmates: "Here's a guy who could make anyone laugh. His never-ending sense of humor, descriptions and ability to execute new pranks have kept us either amused or holding the bag. 'Rah-Rah's' academy career was not effortless, but he had a way of doing things in the easiest and most effective way. His big brown eyes have that new-fields-to-conquer look."

Schirra, a former naval aviator, flew 90 combat missions during the Korean War, getting credit for one downed MIG and another probable.

In 1959, he became one of the original seven astronauts. His Sigma 7 flight, the fifth manned U.S. space mission, carried him around the world six times Oct. 3, 1962, on what was called a textbook mission.

Schirra inherited his daring ways from his father, Walter M. Schirra Sr. of Point Loma, Calif., who flew combat Jennys in World War I and put young Walter at the controls of an airplane when the future astronaut was a teen-ager.

His father, mistakenly declared dead after being shot down, bought one of the old Jennys after the war. He taught his wife to walk on the wings in flight and they barnstormed the country as a husband and wife daredevil flying act.

Born in Hackensack, N.J., Schirra is married to the former Josephine Frazer, an attractive

Jet Bearing 52 Lands Safely On Foamy Strip

OLATHE, Kan. (AP)—A jet airliner carrying 52 persons made a safe landing on a foam-covered runway at the Olathe Naval Air Station Sunday night after having trouble with the nose wheels.

The Braniff BAC111 developed the trouble after taking off from Kansas City's Municipal airport for Minneapolis. The pilot, Capt. G. L. Parent, said the nose gear would not retract.

The two-engine jet, with 48 passengers and four crew members, turned back and circled more than two hours while foam was spread on the air station runway. The landing was normal.

A passenger, E. R. Whitney, 79, of Concordia, Kan., said "It was a new experience for me. I was frightened. The pilot did a fine job."

Another viewpoint was given blonde from Seattle, Wash. They have two red-haired, freckle-faced children, Walter M. III, 15, and Suzanne, 8.

Stafford, an easy-going shy Air Force major, looks more like a school teacher than the experienced test pilot he is. At six feet — the limit set for astronauts — he's two inches taller than Schirra.

Guernsey's Record

Prairie View Missies Millie, a senior two year old registered Guernsey cow, owned by Theo Wilshusen, Ionia, has completed an official herd improvement record actual production record off 10,117 pounds of milk and 519 pounds of butterfat, in 305 days' two times a day milking, according to American Guernsey Cattle Club, Petersburg, N. H. Testing was supervised by University of Missouri, Columbia.

by Gary B. Linka, graduate student at Kansas State University, who said: "Everyone was real calm. No excitement. It was really pretty dull."

The passengers were returned to Kansas City by bus and Braniff arranged other flights for them.

Royal Still Figures In OU's Search

By JERRY SCARBROUGH
Associated Press Writer
NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Oklahoma's search for a football coach to restore the Sooners to national prominence continued to center on Darrell Royal today. But the Texas coach indicates, he's having a tough time deciding.

"My talks with Oklahoma officials have all just been kind of casual," said the former Sooners quarterback Sunday. "There are some things I could become excited about it."

But Dr. George L. Cross, University of Oklahoma president, said Royal knows what OU is willing to do. "We made him the offer," Cross said. "Now he has to make up his mind."

An Oklahoma quarterback in the 1940s, Royal came to Texas in 1957 and proceeded to beat his alma mater eight times in nine years. The Sooners haven't beaten Texas since his first year there.

Royal's Texas teams have posted a 75-19-3 record, gone to seven bowl games and won four Southwest Conference titles.

The OU president said he expected Royal would make up his mind in "three or four days" and said he would be in contact with him today.

Cross said OU's offer to Royal was "higher than has ever been paid here and substantially higher than what Texas pays."

Bud Wilkinson made $32,250 a year Cross said, until his resignation two years ago. Royal's salary at Texas is reportedly $24,000 a year as athletic director and football coach.

Gomer Jones, who resigned as OU football coach last week, was retained as athletic director.

Will Meet Indiana

BIG EIGHT

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Coach Tex Winter thinks the Kansas State Wildcats are getting better all the time and they'll have a chance tonight at Indiana to prove it.

The Wildcats, high in the pre-season basketball ratings, take an 0-4 record to Bloomington after losing both their games in the Sunflower doubleheader.

The Cats excited their followers with a wild scramble that almost beat Maryland Saturday night. The last-half rally fell short, 63-57, but Winter said he was proud of the effort.

"I'd say this very definitely was the turning point in our season," Winter said.

Seventh-ranked Kansas showed its strength by handing St. John's its first loss, 61-55, in the other Sunflower game. The Jayhawks are idle until they play at UCLA Friday.

Three other Big Eight teams hit the boards tonight. Missouri

(0-3) is host to Rice (0-4); Texas plays at Oklahoma State (1-2) and State College of Iowa at Iowa State (2-2).

Missouri, suffering from inexperience, took an 81-55 beating at St. Louis University Saturday. The Tigers were blown out of contention early as St. Louis scored at a torrid pace.

Oklahoma State walloped Arizona State 61-49 at Stillwater, but the Cowboys will find Texas a different type foe.

Iowa State breezed to a 102-76 victory over unbeaten Augustana Saturday and is favored to take State College tonight.

Wichita dumped unbeaten Colorado 87-81 in a game so close that the score was tied or the lead changed hands 39 times.

Nebraska squared accounts with California, winning at Berkeley 70-68 on Nate Branch's late tip-in. Bradley edged Oklahoma 81-80 at Norman.

Tuesday's games include: Cincinnati at Colorado, Texas at Nebraska, Oklahoma at Texas Tech.

Still Eyes First Place

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

St. Louis, despite losing 123-101 to the Los Angeles Lakers, still had its eye on first place today in the Western Division race of the National Basketball Association.

The Hawks lost their second straight to Los Angeles Sunday night to put St. Louis 4½ games back.

Hawks' Player-Coach Richie Guerin said after the defeat he hoped a week's break in the schedule — after playing San Francisco Wednesday and Friday — might give four Hawks, including Guerin, time to heal.

St. Louis doesn't play again until Dec. 25 in New York.

Guerin played 33 out of 48 minutes Sunday night despite pain from a severely bruised Achilles tendon, which left him exhausted at the finish. The Hawks' other starting guard, Len Wilkens, is just beginning to return to play again after a three-week layoff with a sprained ankle.

Also sidelined are guard Chico Vaughn, with a pulled thigh muscle that halves his speed, and forward Jeff Mullins, suffering a severe ankle sprain.

The Hawks trailed by only 10 points at the half Sunday night, 64-54. But fast-breaking Los Angeles outscored St. Louis 35-17 in the third quarter, sewing up the game.

St. Louis took another beating, from Boston, Saturday, 126-108. In other Saturday games, Philadelphia whipped Cincinnati 135-132 in overtime and New York beat Baltimore 150-127.

Reprieve For Hornung

Hornung, Robinson Raise Packers To Lead In NFL

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Vince Lombardi's hunch turned Paul Hornung loose on a five-touchdown spree in Sunday's National Football League power struggle at Baltimore but it was a right guess by Green Bay linebacker Dave Robinson that turned the corner for the Packers.

Hornung, given a reprieve by Coach Lombardi after languishing on the bench for two weeks, responded with an offensive binge that vaulted Green Bay past the crippled Colts 42-27 and into the lead in the NFL's Western Division stretch run. A defensive gem by Robinson, however, provided the momentum as the Packers all but shattered Baltimore's title hopes.

The loss dropped the Colts one-half game behind Green Bay and one-half length ahead of Chicago, which stayed alive by smashing San Francisco 61-20 as rookie flash Gale Sayers bolted for six touchdowns. The Packers can wrap it up by beating the 49ers in next Sunday's finale, regardless of how the Baltimore-Los Angeles and Chicago-Minnesota games turn out.

The Rams upended Cleveland's Eastern Conference champions 42-7; the Vikings beat Detroit 29-7; the New York Giants topped Washington 27-10 and the Philadelphia Eagles trounced Pittsburgh 47-13 in Sunday's other games. Dallas whipped St. Louis 27-13 Saturday.

Robinson, a third-year pro from Penn State, came up with the big play for Green Bay in the final minute of the first half.

The Johnny Unitas-less Colts trailed 14-13 but were driving for a go-ahead touchdown behind reserve quarterback Gary Cuozzo. With the ball on the Green Bay 2, Cuozzo dropped back and lofted a flat pass in the direction of fullback Jerry Hill.

But Robinson, anticipating the pass, drifted to his left, reached up and picked it off — then raced 87 yards to the Baltimore 10. Bart Starr fired a TD pass to Boyd Dowler on the next play, boosting the Packers' halftime lead.

bulge to 21-13 and Hornung picked up the pieces.

The three-time NFL scoring king ran for three touchdowns and tallied on 50 and 65-yard pass-run plays from Starr. The over-all performance gave Hornung a club record for TDs in a single game.

Until Lombardi gave him the green light against the Colts, Hornung had scored only three touchdowns and had lost his starting job to Elijah Pitts. "It was a hunch — but Hornung's a pressure player," the coach said of his decision to start the eight-year veteran Sunday.

With Unitas on crutches — result of a mangled knee inflicted by the blitzing Bears last weekend — and Cuozzo slowed by a shoulder injury in the second half, the Colts' attack couldn't keep pace with Hornung and Starr, who completed 10 of his 17 pass attempts for 222 yards. Cuozzo hit on 20 of 38 for 212 yards and one touchdown.

Sayers shocked San Francisco with a one-man show that set a single-game NFL mark of 336 yards rushing, receiving and returning kicks. His six touchdowns gave him a total of 21 for the year — one more than the league record set by Baltimore's Lenny Moore last season and matched by Cleveland's Jim Brown this year.

The rookie from Kansas carried nine times for 113 yards, caught two passes for 89 and returned five kicks for 134, topping by five yards the mark set

UCLA's Grasp Shaky

Duke Leading List Of Cage Pretenders

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

There are plenty of pretenders today for the title of national collegiate basketball champion which appears shaky in the grasp of UCLA.

Heading the list are the Duke Blue Devils with Bob Verga and Jack Maring who routed the two-time national champions on successive nights last Friday and Saturday, 82-66 and 94-75.

Right behind are All-America Cazzie Russell and the Michigan Wolverines, ranked second to UCLA in last week's Associated Press poll.

Then there's St. Joseph's of Philadelphia, Vanderbilt, Minnesota, Kansas, Providence, Bradley, Iowa, Kentucky, Wichita, Dayton, Temple, Princeton, Syracuse as well as Connecticut, Colorado State U., Utah, Brigham Young, San Francisco, Oklahoma City, Texas A&M, Chicago Loyola, Western Kentucky, DePaul and Boston College.

UCLA, which suffered two straight defeats for the first time in years, still must be reckoned with as the team picked before the season opened to win an unprecedented third straight national crown.

"Every team plays poorly away from home," said UCLA Coach Johnny Wooden after the disasters against Duke. He referred to Duke's upset on the road by South Carolina last Monday and could have included Michigan's road defeat by Wichita last Wednesday.

UCLA will be back home in Los Angeles this week ready to show there's a lot of life in the old boy yet. The unbeaten Kansas Jayhawks, 5-0 and No. 7 in the AP poll, get the chance Friday to test their championship aspirations. On Saturday the Cincinnati Bearcats will get their whack at the Bruins.

Kansas knocked St. John's of New York from the unbeaten ranks 61-55 Saturday while Cincinnati humbled South Dakota 112-66.

Michigan rebounded from its Wichita defeat by beating San Francisco 96-78 with Russell getting his career high 45 points. All but 10 of these came in the second half as Cazzie turned a close game at Chicago Stadium into a rout. The Wolverines are idle this week and are looking ahead to their meeting with Duke next week.

Duquesne beat Miami of Ohio 64-60 to win the Steel Bowl at Pittsburgh Saturday. Tennessee State took the K. of C. Tourney at Portland, Ore., by whipping Idaho 104-93.

Duke, paced by Verga's 22 points and Maring's 23, at one time opened a 24-point lead over Wally Triplett of Detroit against Los Angeles in 1950.

Sayers scored on an 80-yard screen pass from Rudy Bukich, an 84-yard punt return and jaunts of 1, 7, 21 and 50 yards from scrimmage. That brought 126, two short of the rookie record set by the rookie rec-his league-leading point total to 126, two short of the rookie record established in 1950 by the Lons' Doak Walker.

Roman Gabriel sparked the Rams' upset of Cleveland by tossing five TD passes and running for a sixth score. The Rams held Jim Brown to 20 yards in 13 carries while winning their third in a row. Tommy McDonald caught three Gabriel scoring strikes on plays that covered 46, 42 and 43 yards.

Minnesota snapped a four-game losing streak as Frank Tarkenton fired two first-half TD passes, Fred Cox booted two long field goals and Ed Sharockman scored on a 40-yard interception return.

Earl Morrall hit Homer Jones with a pair of scoring bombs, good for 74 and 72 yards, in the Giants' victory at Washington, which kept them in second place in the East. The Giants can clinch a berth in the NFL Playoff Bowl at Miami if they get by Dallas next Sunday.

Philadelphia defenders intercepted nine Pittsburgh passes, running three back for touchdowns, in the Eagles' one-sided victory. The loss was No. 11 for the Steelers in 13 games, their worst record in 21 years.

UCLA at 70-46. While that game at Charlotte wasn't exciting there were several close finishes.

Ron Hobson's basket in the last second gave Tennessee Tech a 79-77 victory over Canisius. Nebraska's Nate Branch tipped in a rebound to give the Cornhuskers a 70-68 victory over California. Tommy Campbell's 20-foot jump shot at the final buzzer gave Bradley an 81-80 squeeze over Oklahoma and Stan Felsinger's four free throws in the last minute gave Columbia an upset 69-68 victory over Cornell.

Five MVC Teams Are Undefeated

By The Associated Press

The Missouri Valley moves into the second full week of the 1965-66 basketball season with five of its eight teams undefeated and carrying an impressive record of 27 victories and only four losses against outside competition.

At least one of the undefeated will fall by the wayside this week as ninth-ranked Bradley hosts St. Louis at Peoria Tuesday night in the first conference game of the season. Bradley has won five straight and St. Louis, four.

North Texas also is undefeated in four games and Wichita and Cincinnati have each won three.

Louisville and Tulsa each show one loss against three victories and Drake has won two and lost two.

Tommy Campbell's 20-foot jumper at the buzzer Saturday night gave Bradley an 81-80 victory over Oklahoma at Norman.

In other games Saturday night St. Louis raced past Missouri 81-55, Cincinnati overwhelmed South Dakota 112-66, Wichita defeated Colorado 87-81, North Texas edged West Texas 73-71, Tulsa beat St. Mary's of Texas 66-51, Louisville pulled out a 70-

Richards Fired By Houston

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Paul Richards, who came to the Houston Astros as general manager in 1961 to build up the club, is on the outside looking in today, but he isn't bitter.

Roy Hofheinz, owner of the Astros, fired Richards Sunday and replaced Field Manager Luman Harris with Grady Hatton, manager of Houston's Oklahoma City farm club in the Pacific Coast League.

Tal Smith, special assistant to Hofheinz, was named director of player personnel. Smith and Hatton will share Richards' former duties and the general manager title will be retired.

"The judge thinks that Grady and Tal can run the club better than our group," Richards said at a hurriedly called news conference set up by Hofheinz. "That's 100 per cent okay with me."

"It's his team. He wasn't satisfied with the progress of the team."

Richards said he first learned of the move about 1 p.m. Sunday but "you might say the judge (Hofheinz) and I had some long-distance communication of the minds."

"I called Eddie Robinson (Astros farm director) when I landed in Miami (from Venezuela) and in that way learned about Friday's press conference."

Hatton and Hofheinz had held a news conference Friday to announce that Hatton had turned down an offer to manage the Chicago White Sox. The White Sox denied any offer was made.

"After that (when he learned of that news conference) it was obvious," Richards said.

Hofheinz had high praise for Hatton and Smith. "They are two of baseball's brightest young men and I feel that the progress of the Astros on the playing field will be swifter with Grady and Tal in charge of the playing end of the game," he said.

The terms of a new contract for Hatton presumably will be worked out in the next day or so.

Harris had made the trip to Venezuela with Richards and was due back in Houston from Alabama today. He was not available for comment.

Hofheinz said Harris and Robinson would be offered new jobs in the Astro organization. Robinson, at Sunday's news conference, said he'd have to talk it over with Hofheinz and with Mrs. Robinson.

Harris' contract runs through next year.

Richards was given a three-year contract when he replaced Gabe Paul in 1961 as general manager. The contract was extended through 1970 last year.

Hofheinz indicated he would buy up Richards' contract. Hatton was named Minor League Manager of the Year this year. He guided Oklahoma City to two Pacific Coast League titles in three years.

Warrensburg Wins First League Tilt

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Warrensburg State and William Jewell, the defending champions of Missouri college basketball conferences, have taken up where they left off.

Warrensburg won its opening conference game, 83-66 over Rolla's Miners Saturday night and is tied with Springfield and Maryville for the top spot in the MIAA. Springfield defeated Cape Girardeau 72-65 last Saturday, and Maryville downed Kirksville 63-58 last Friday. Strangely, all three victories were posted by the visiting teams.

Jewell shares the lead of the MCAU with Drury after both won their second league games on Friday. In Saturday's non-league games, Jewell was not so fortunate, losing to Washington of St. Louis 78-54, while Drury slipped visiting Austin, Tex., 64-54.

In other games Saturday, Park won its third straight beating Graceland 87-77, Kirksville lost its fifth straight to State College of Iowa 74-70, and Lincoln tripped Northwest Iowa 96-84.

Three league games dot this week's busy slate. In the MIAA tonight, Warrensburg is at Cape and Springfield travels to Rolla. The only MCAU game sends Drury to Missouri Valley Thursday.

Chargers Wrap Up Third Title

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The San Diego Chargers have wrapped up their third consecutive Western Division title in the American Football League, and there's little doubt that a key but overlooked factor has been Herb Travenio — the postman for whom they had to ring twice.

Paul Lowe became the first two-time 1,000-yard ground gainer in AFL history and Keith Lincoln, Lance Alworth and John Hadl played their usual roles for the Chargers. But it was Travenio who provided the crucial points with his place kicking in Sunday's title-clinching 37-26 victory over stubborn Houston.

The Oilers led 19-14 in the third period when Travenio was put to work. He kicked a 32-yard field goal, then came back early in the fourth quarter and kicked a 12-yarder that put the Chargers ahead 20-19. The Oilers, however, quickly regained the lead 26-20 on George Blanda's third touchdown pass.

But the Chargers bounced back again, moving 76 yards before Hadl plunged a foot for the tying points. Travenio added the conversion for a 27-26 lead, and followed minutes later with another 32-yard field goal that put it out of Houston's reach.

All things considered it was a most successful day — and it's been a most successful season — for Travenio, a 34-year-old third-year pro who skipped college, refined his football knowledge in the U.S. Marines and was found by the Chargers working in the local post office.

Travenio caught on with San Diego last season but eventually was also dropped by the Chargers and went back to his post-office job. When injuries depleted San Diego's kicking corps this season, the Chargers rang for the postman again.

Travenio has responded with 37 conversions without a miss and 17 of 28 field goal attempts for 88 points — tops on the team and fourth best in the league.

While the Chargers were wrapping up their fifth title in the six-year history of the league, Eastern champion Buffalo whipped Kansas City 34-25, Oakland clinched the runner-up spot in the West by downing New York 24-14 and Boston defeated Denver 28-20.

Travenio's 12-yard field goal came at the end of a 62-yard drive in which Lowe picked up 38 yards. Hadl then passed 22 yards to Lincoln and rushed for 46 yards himself in a 76-yard drive that wound up with Travenio's conversion putting San

Oliva Certified As AL Champion

BOSTON (AP) — Tony Oliva of the Minnesota Twins has been certified as the American League batting king for the second straight year.

The official 1965 averages released Sunday confirmed Oliva's pace-setting .321 average. He led with a .323 mark as a rookie in 1964.

Carl Yastrzemski of Boston, the 1963 batting champion, was the runner-up last season with a .312 average. Vic Davalillo of Cleveland was third with .301 followed by Brooks Robinson, Baltimore, .297, and Leon Wagner, Cleveland, .294.

Rocky Colavito of Cleveland paced the loop in runs batted in with 108 while Boston's Tony Conigliaro captured the home run crown with 32.

Diego ahead to stay. Jim Warren's interception set up Travenio's final field goal.

Lowe, who scored the last San Diego touchdown in a 15-yard jaunt, rushed for 99 yards in 19 carries and brought his ground-gaining total for the year to 1,089 — within 10 yards of the league record set by Oakland's Clem Daniels in 1963. Lowe, who gained 1,010 yards in 1963, has one game remaining before the Dec. 26 championship game against Buffalo.

The Bills tuned up with Jack Kemp firing three touchdown passes — 66 and 13 to Bo Robertson and 46 to Ed Rutkowski — and Pete Gogolak kicking two field goals. Gogolak's field goals gave him an AFL record of 28. Len Dawson's three touchdown passes kept the Chiefs close.

Clem Daniels scored twice for the Raiders but Mike Mercer provided the decisive points for a 17-14 lead on a 22-yard field goal with 2:38 remaining. Joe Namath passed for two Jet touchdowns, hitting Bake Turner with a 62-yarder and Don Maynard on a 43-yard play.

Babe Parilli threw three touchdown passes for the Patriots and Jacky Lee did the same for the Broncos but Jim Nance provided the difference with a one-yard touchdown smash for Boston.

Government, Financiers' Clash Big Business Story

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — The clash of government with industrial and financial leaders provided the best business stories of 1965. The see-sawing of the stock market at dizzy high levels and record volume was a close runner-up. The steady climb of the economy in the fields of jobs, profits and incomes made an important, if less exciting, background.

Here, in one man's opinion, are the 10 top business and finance stories of the year:

1. Showdown of the Johnson Administration and monetary authorities on interest rates. As bankers applauded, the Federal Reserve Board raised interest rates, saying this would head off the inflation it feared coming. President Johnson deplored the move, saying easy money was needed if the economy were to grow faster.

2. Crackdown by the government on price increases in selected industries. Steel labor negotiations were transferred from Pittsburgh to the White House to help keep wage and price increases within government guidelines. The power of the government's stockpiles was used to get aluminum and copper producers to rescind price hikes, and to hold down the rising cost of bread.

3. Record trading volume and wide price swings in the stock market. Prices hit a peak in May, dropped sharply, rose to a still higher level in the fall, and faltered again. Rumors, turns in the Viet Nam war, talk of inflation, rocky government-business relations could send volume soaring and prices into a tail-spin and then into equally startling recoveries.

4. Rising government spending (and deficit) from Viet Nam war and the Great Society. Washington was pumping more money into the economy than planned — and the pace of business quickened. The federal debt climbed.

5. Controls over corporate and banking investments overseas. Voluntary curbs on spending abroad were stiffened as the dollar outflow continued.

6. Drain of gold takes big jump. Government drive to trim deficit in balance of payments was partly successful. But other lands, especially France, turned in more dollars for U.S. Treasury gold than last year. Congress freed some gold by eliminating reserve requirements for bank deposits.

7. Excise tax cut. Consumer spending was stimulated by elimination or reduction of some sales levies. But early hopes for further cut in income taxes are all but killed by rising government spending and bigger Treasury deficit.

8. Drop of the unemployment rate. A booming economy furnished more jobs and created shortages in a number of skilled classifications.

9. Rash of mergers. Railroads and banks grabbed most of the headlines both with their plans for combining and with the opposition of government agencies, particularly the antitrust division of the Justice Department. But engagements were announced in many industries — and many were broken. Some that went through linked such diverse companies that the survivor dreamed up a new name since the old ones no longer fit the current activities.

10. Feuds with De Gaulle. There were many. Washington and the French president didn't see eye to eye on the gold standard, need for monetary reform nor political and trade relations with the Communist bloc. The European Common Market, which Washington backed, was all but stymied when France withdrew its representatives. Hopes for further tariff cuts, which Washington calls the Kennedy Round, got nowhere while France feuded with its allies.

School Cheating Discussed By PTA Members

Seven buzz groups at Pettis County R-5 School elementary PTA, Houstonia, in December, debated the theme, "Everybody Does It," concerning cheating and community responsibility. The subject was first discussed by Mrs. Jack Greer, who was introduced by Mrs. John Tevis.

Seventh graders sang "Jacob's Ladder" and gave three hand selections, "American Patrol," "Win That Game" and "Gypsy Sweetheart." Under direction of Mrs. Philip Imhauser, seventh graders displayed and interpreted murals they made in social studies. Science notebooks were also shown.

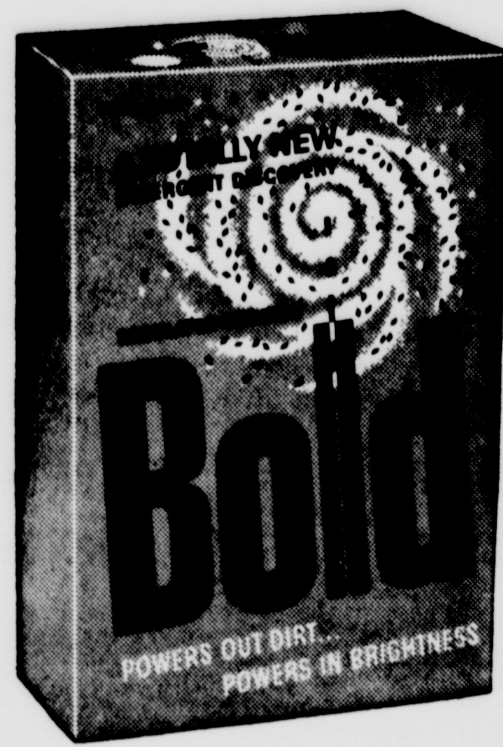

Health committee reported three days were spent checking pupils' eyes; and requested and received permission to buy scales with a measuring device for the school.

In the absence of the Rev. Mr. Kessler, president, Mrs. Harry D. Meyer, vice president, presided.
